A current display on what flooring options we currently have

The default on all houses displayed are timber, there are currently only two colours.

The first option is a brown colour, which is shown.

The second option is a grey colour, mostly found in modern homes.

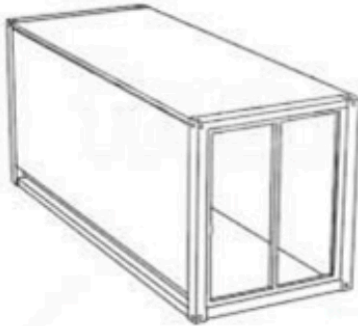

The bathroom is nice and comfortable, with a reasonable amount of sink, toilet, and shower space.

We have double glazed doors and a slidable glass door in the inside.

We include two shower heads, the top one is a rain head and the bottom one is movable.
